Congratulations, you have been hired by one of our labs as part of the Summer@EPFL programme! The programme is extremely selective and only around 2% of all applicants get this chance.

Unfortunately, due to the pandemic and uncertainties concerning its future evolution (new health restrictions or, for instance, a further deterioration of the situation), EPFL reserves the right to modify the participation conditions to Summer@EPFL or even to cancel the programme—EPFL cannot be held liable should this be the case. Yet, we are hopeful things will improve and we will try our best not to cancel it!

Please understand that after this point we assume you are fully committed to the programme and will not revert your decision to come to EPFL next summer. If you will announce later on that in the end you are not coming (because of another opportunity which will materialize later, for instance), you would have essentially deprived one of your fellows of the chance to be at EPFL—and we think this is neither fair to your colleagues nor an acceptable behaviour. Please think about this and, if you still have any doubts about coming to EPFL, please contact immediately the inviting lab and put Summer@EPFL.ch in copy.

Finally, the Summer@EPFL program has a Facebook group at

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/summerEPFL/>

where you can network with current and previous interns. Make also sure that you visit and like our Facebook page at

<https://www.facebook.com/summeratepfl/>

You can also direct there any practical questions you might have about the internship program and living in Lausanne.

We look forward to seeing you soon in Lausanne. Enjoy your Summer@EPFL!
